KIDNAPPED BOY FOUND

By YITZHAK OKED

Jerusalem Post Reporter

ATV. — An eight-year-old boy was kidnapped on his way to school in Yehuda, near Lod, at eight o'clock yesterday, and found unharmed 15 miles later, abandoned on a Tel Aviv street.

The boy's father, who had been kept in a public telephone booth all day, but never stated conditions for releasing the boy.

There were signs of a post-mortem with the theft of 800 worth of diamonds from the boy's father's pocket.

Police have been questioning the boy's father, who was seen at his job as a porter at the hotel.

The father had launched a massive hunt, despite a warning from the police that they would not return the boy to him.

The father was believed to be the first of his kind in Israel — the youngest father, and a top investigator from all the country to the case.

The boy was found late last night by an anonymous caller told them to go to 89/88 Rehov.

Police found the boy in a room at the hotel, and a search of the room revealed a small bag containing a diamond ring.

All planes return safely Egypt fires at Israel planes over Sinai

By HIRSH GOODMAN

Jerusalem Post Military Correspondent

The Egyptians fired several anti-aircraft missiles at Israeli planes over Sinai yesterday. The Egyptian Air Force spokesman announced that all the planes, on a routine patrol at the time, returned safely to base.

This was the first incident along the border with Egypt since February 16, when Israeli planes downed an Egyptian Mig-21 which tried to intercept a routine patrol.

Yesterday's encounter occurred east of the Suez Canal in the southern sector shortly after 3 p.m. It is believed the missiles were Sam-2s. This is the third time in the past year that the Egyptians have fired anti-aircraft missiles at Israeli planes in the Suez area, the last time being on October 10, 1972.

In all three cases, the missiles missed their targets.

Israel yesterday registered a formal complaint with the United Nations mission supervising the cease-fire.

The Army Spokesman denied as a "double lie" reports from Cairo saying Egypt shot down an Israeli Phantom jet after it encroached on Egyptian airspace.

The Air Force planes did not try to penetrate the Egyptian area and no aircraft was shot down," he said.

Defence officials in Israel have felt for some time that the Egyptians were preparing to violate the 34-month-old cease-fire, to draw international attention to the Middle East crisis. It was thought that the Egyptians would attempt some limited action at the time of the Nixon-Brezhnev summit, to prod the two leaders into taking a stronger line in the crisis. It was also thought that Egypt would try to add "substance" to the U.N. Middle East debate by creating a sense of urgency around the delimitation.

Israel's military and political leaders have stated repeatedly that Israel would not allow Egyptian belligerency to go unnoticed. They have warned that should Egypt embark on a course of limited action, Israel would not necessarily keep the conflict limited.

The projected union recently was shaken by Gaddafi's "cultural revolution" which Cairo openly resented. The merger was further overshadowed by the fact that Egypt is directly involved in the conflict with Israel. This issue brought to a flash-point such questions as Libya's militant stand toward the existence of Israel — which could push Egypt into a more warlike stance than it wishes at this time — and its Mirza warplanes deal, which France has pledged to reconsider if Libya becomes a direct party in the Middle East conflict.

Meanwhile, rather than concerning itself with the merger, Cairo seemed preoccupied with the Middle East crisis especially in the aftermath of last week's Nixon-Brezhnev summit. The Egyptians continued yesterday to display their astonishment that the leaders of the two powers did not go beyond expressing concern over the Middle East crisis.

The semi-official "Al-Ahram" newspaper charged that the U.S. and the Soviet Union were giving precedence to their self-interest over what it called principles.

Referring to the powers' declaration of concern, the newspaper's managing editor Ali Hamdi el-Garni wrote that "those who express deep concern about something should hasten to take some measures regarding it, especially if they have the ability of taking such measures."

Another Cairo newspaper, "Al-Akhbar," said Egypt was conducting inter-Arab consultations on the outcome of the Nixon-Brezhnev talks. The Egyptian press has been urging the Arab states to reassess the Middle East situation in the light of the current American-Soviet detente.

The newspapers indicated the Egyptians might still resort to military activity.

The Egyptians were simultaneously consolidating their military strategy with Syria, which yesterday revealed it had just completed nationwide maneuvers engaging the various branches of the Syrian armed forces.

The Damascus weekly "People's Army" said the purpose of these maneuvers was to train troops to use sophisticated weapons Syria has been receiving from Moscow.

The weekly noted that the maneuvers were personally supervised by Defense Minister Maj. General Mustafa Tlas. Tlas was yesterday reported to have flown to Hanoi on an official visit to North Vietnam.

Libya-Egypt merger plans seen in trouble

By ANAN SAFADI

Jerusalem Post Arab Affairs Reporter

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Libyan leader Mu'ammer Gaddafi said yesterday they would meet again as early as next week, as the two leaders' plans for the September 1 merger of their countries appeared to be running into obstacles.

The announcement on next week's meeting was made shortly after the two returned to Cairo following four days of intensive talks in Egypt's Mediterranean city port of Alexandria.

Sadat and Gaddafi said they planned to confer with the "wider joint political leadership" in their countries next week, presumably in Cairo. The two leaders were earlier reported by Cairo radio to have tackled "the framework" of their proposed union, indicating they might have backed down on their previous plans of merging Egypt and Libya within one state.

The projected union recently was shaken by Gaddafi's "cultural revolution" which Cairo openly resented. The merger was further overshadowed by the fact that Egypt is directly involved in the conflict with Israel. This issue brought to a flash-point such questions as Libya's militant stand toward the existence of Israel — which could push Egypt into a more warlike stance than it wishes at this time — and its Mirza warplanes deal, which France has pledged to reconsider if Libya becomes a direct party in the Middle East conflict.

Concorde to chase eclipse across Africa

PARTIAL SOLAR ECLIPSE

VISIBLE HERE TOMORROW

PARIS (Reuters). — The supersonic Concorde jetliner will chase the moon's shadow across the middle of Africa on Saturday to give scientists their longest view of a total eclipse of the sun.

The speed of the moon's slide across the face of the sun is only slightly faster than Concorde's own top speed. Flying twice as fast as sound, Concorde can keep the eclipse in view for some 80 minutes — which is about eight times longer than scientists have been able to manage before.

All the total eclipses over the past 50 years have yielded scientists a total of only 129 minutes viewing time.

The aircraft being used is the first of the Anglo-French prototypes — the model 001 based in Toulouse.

It will set out at 12.45 p.m. Israel time tomorrow for Las Palmas in the Canary Islands, and pursue the eclipse path for 3,040 km. The plane is due to land at Fort Lamy, in Chad, at 6.23 p.m. Israel time. Four special windows have been fitted in the roof of the prototype to help observations.

Concorde 001 arrived in Las Palmas on Wednesday with seven scientists aboard. It was followed by a technical support crew in a Caravelle. The aircraft will fly at around 18,000 metres, well above the infrared absorbing layers of the atmosphere.

The experiments, financed in France by the General Delegation for Scientific Research and Technology and in Britain by the Science

Research Council, will include studies of the eclipse's effect on human and animal life. Special optical instruments and other apparatus have been installed on the plane for this purpose.

Scientists say that the next total eclipse of the sun will be on June 21, 2150, when it will last six seconds longer than this time.

A partial eclipse of the sun will be visible in Israel tomorrow afternoon between 1:30 and 3:30. The full eclipse, moving on a west-east track, will only be visible over West Central Africa, Prof. Dov Ashbel, head of the Hebrew University's department of climatology, told The Jerusalem Post last night.

(The partial eclipse will be seen easily through sun glasses or a soot-darkened piece of glass. The last eclipse of comparable length was seen in Israel on the same date, June 30, 19 years ago, Prof. Ashbel said.)

Senate c'ttee cuts bombing funds

WASHINGTON (Reuters). — Congress yesterday moved towards another confrontation with President Nixon over continued U.S. bombing in Cambodia when the Senate appropriations committee approved an amendment cutting off all funds for bombing in Indochina.

It was attached to legislation providing funds for government agencies after the end of the present fiscal year on June 30.

The so-called "continuing resolution" gives the Administration authority and money to run its programmes until the end of September while Congress considers regular appropriation or funding legislation.

Warning by Lebanese premier-elect

Jerusalem Post Arab Affairs Reporter

Lebanese Premier-designate Takiyeh Suleh yesterday indicated he might withdraw his candidacy over the weekend if the country's political leaders fail to help him solve the crisis which has left Lebanon without a government for a week.

The crisis centres on Beirut's future relations with the terrorist organizations. Pro-terrorist circles in Lebanon insist that Socialist Bloc leader Kamal Jumblatt take over the Interior Ministry in any new government. This is resisted by other political groups, which seek to combat the terrorist presence and its activities against Israel from Lebanese territory.

Suleh was asked to form a new Cabinet last Thursday following the resignation of Premier Amin el-Hafez, whose seven-week-old government was ousted by last month's fighting between the Lebanese army and the Palestinian terrorist organizations. Hafez' government of young independent politicians was confronted with a Moslem-Christian sectarian crisis sparked off by the older, more traditionally minded politicians.

But, she added, the Government was aware of the need to adjust doctors' salaries and working conditions. "I am convinced that the Government's decision to grant them a 45.6 per cent increase — in addition to extra benefits — is the highest rate given to any group," she said.

No back-to-work orders for MDs, Meir hopes

ROSH PINA. — Prime Minister Golda Meir said here yesterday she hoped the Government would not have to issue back-to-work orders against the striking doctors, and that they would "reconsider their adamant stand."

She was speaking at a women's rally after being made Freeman of Rosh Pina, on the occasion of the town's 90th anniversary celebrations.

"It is no simple matter to issue back-to-work orders to thousands of doctors," Mrs. Meir said. "It is a grave decision to make and I hope we won't have to do it."

She appealed to the doctors to reconsider their stand, adding that the Government would see to it that patients applying for treatment at Kupat Holim hospitals would not have to pay a fee of IL50.

But, she added, the Government was aware of the need to adjust doctors' salaries and working conditions. "I am convinced that the Government's decision to grant them a 45.6 per cent increase — in addition to extra benefits — is the highest rate given to any group," she said.

IN: WHITE HOUSE 'NOT BARING SOUL'

WASHINGTON (UPI). — Refusing to waive his previous testimony, what he termed "loaded" questions from the White House, John Dean said yesterday many presidential staffers the White House "wasn't baring its soul."

Dean said the White House "wasn't baring its soul" about the case and its cover-up. In fourth day before the Senate subcommittee, the ousted former Counsel insisted he had cleared in "any and every way" the case and its cover-up.

The White House questions, prepared by recently appointed presidential Counsel Fred Buzhardt, appeared to reflect a new White House strategy of blaming Dean and former Attorney General John Mitchell for the Watergate affair.

The questions were asked Dean by Sen. Daniel Inouye (Democrat-Hawaii), a member of the committee.

"If your deputy, Mr. (Fred) Buzhardt, who was working with you, and who carried out some of your missions connected with the conspiracy, had absolutely no knowledge of the cover-up conspiracy, how do you so blithely assume that others on the White House staff and even the President did know of your conspiracy?" Inouye asked for the White House.

"I think today Mr. Buzhardt is very happy that I didn't tell him," Dean replied. "In fact, he subsequently thanked me for not involving him."

"I don't know how many other people on the White House staff knew of the conspiracy... I certainly know I was getting instructions from Mr. Haldeman and Mr. Ehrlichman and I know of my conversations with the President."

"I know that quite a number of other people know that the White House was not exactly baring its soul on the matter — there was a series of various phases of the cover-up and various people at the White House knew about it."

Dean did not identify the others, but he has testified at length previously that former White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, Mr. Nixon's former chief domestic affairs adviser, were among the architects of the plot to cover up high-level involvement in the bugging of Democratic party headquarters at the Watergate 4 year ago.

'Nixon ready to answer questions'

WASHINGTON (Reuters). — President Nixon is reported to be willing to answer all questions about his role in the Watergate affair after major witnesses have testified to the Senate investigating committee. This was stated in an interview given by White House aide Melvin Laird yesterday to the "Washington Post."

Mr. Laird said the President would answer questions at a press conference when the Senate hearings neared a conclusion. He added, however, that Mr. Nixon would not respond to every witness's charges.

Mr. Laird told "The Post" he had talked about the timing of a press conference with Mr. Nixon and "I think he is willing to do that and I don't think there will be any problem with that."

Petah Tikva man named shesh-besh nat'l champ

Jerusalem Post Reporter
BEERSHEBA. — A 40-year-old civilian army employee from Petah Tikva yesterday became shesh-besh (backgammon) champion of Israel.

The two-day national shesh-besh competition ended at the Community Centre here yesterday with Moshe Cohen winning first prize — a movie camera worth I.L.850. Married and a father of three, Mr. Cohen said he started playing shesh-besh at the age of 17.

The next two prizes were won by Jerusalemite, Ya'acov Kalman, a 37-year-old contractor (a free night to Europe — tax not included), and Elishu Marjan, 19, who is employed as a clerk at the Government Information Centre. He got two free air tickets for a weekend in Sharm el-Sheikh.

Mayor Elishu Navi was named chairman of the newly formed Israel Shesh-Besh Association, which intends to write to the American Backgammon Association with an offer to hold an international competition in Beersheba next year.

Mayor Navi, who is a keen shesh-besh player himself, challenged the six district champions Wednesday night to a friendly simultaneous match — and came out third.

Rabin voices moderate stand on Palestinians

BEIT BERL. — Yitzhak Rabin, Israel's former Ambassador to the U.S., said yesterday that the Palestinians have a right to determine their own destiny — "but not at the expense of three million Jews."

Speaking at a meeting of the Labour Party Young Guard at the Beit Berl Labour College, Mr. Rabin adopted a more moderate stance than Defence Minister Moshe Dayan, who said in a lecture at the Technion on Wednesday that the idea of a Palestinian political entity was "dead and buried."

Although not referring directly to Mr. Dayan's speech, Mr. Rabin said the right to national self-determination "cannot be granted or taken away by outsiders. I would not presume to determine whether there is a Palestinian entity or not."

But, he added, "The right of two and a half million Arabs to self-determination cannot come at the expense of three million Jews." He said the establishment of a tiny Palestinian state in the West Bank would not solve the problem. "It would have been possible to set up a Jewish and an Arab state within the 1918 borders (which included Transjordan)," he said, but whether the Arab state was named Jordan or anything else "is not our business."

Senate confirms Schlesinger post

WASHINGTON (Reuters). — The Senate yesterday unanimously confirmed the nomination of Mr. James Schlesinger as Secretary of Defence by a vote of 91-0.

The action virtually completes the reorganization of President Nixon's Cabinet following resignations related to the Watergate incident. Mr. Schlesinger replaces Elliot Richardson, who became Attorney-General, succeeding Richard Kleindienst, who resigned in April.

Woman, child killed on roads

BEERSHEBA. — A woman and a seven-year-old child were killed in two road accidents here Wednesday, in which four other persons were seriously injured.

A car driven by Pinhas Moyal, 29, collided head-on with an automobile driven by Mazal Shumian, as Mr. Moyal was passing a truck on the Mishmar Hanegev-Beersheba road. Mazal Shumian, fatally injured, died en route to Soroka Hospital. Mr. Moyal and three passengers in his car were injured seriously.

Elishu Mahlav, 7, was killed in Beersheba when struck by a car driven by a local resident, near the University of the Negev. The driver was detained for questioning. (Nim)

Eight Moscow Jews held after subway demonstration

MOSCOW (UPI). — Police arrested eight Moscow Jews yesterday at a subway station for attempting to demonstrate against the Soviet authorities' refusal to issue them exit visas for Israel, a Jewish source said.

The eight were taken into custody at the Mayakovskiy Square station on Gorky Street, moments after they unfurled signs on the station platform saying "I want to go to Israel."

The source said only one KGB secret police agent was on the platform when the demonstration began. He yelled, "What do you think you are doing?" and snatched their signs away, ripped them up and sent a passer-by to get help.

About five minutes later, other plainclothes and uniformed police arrived and led the eight away, the source said.

Meir, Dayan to meet today on platform

Jerusalem Post Reporter
Prime Minister Golda Meir and Defence Minister Moshe Dayan were expected to meet again today to discuss Mr. Dayan's demand for a more explicit Labour Party platform on policy in the administered areas. They held a first meeting last Friday.

Mr. Dayan is pressing for a policy that would commit the party to establishing new urban settlements in the area and permitting Jews to purchase Arab land. His proposals are opposed by Finance Minister Pinhas Sapir, Foreign Minister Abba Eban, and most of the former Mapai leadership.

Mr. Dayan is said to have told associates that if the Labour Party is not prepared to commit itself to such a policy as it goes into the elections, he would not rule out setting up a separate electoral list.

Yesterday the Prime Minister's Office denied newspaper reports that, in their meeting last Friday, Mrs. Meir and Mr. Dayan "discussed personalities and appointments." The reports had said Mr. Dayan told Mrs. Meir he would oppose inclusion in the next cabinet and Knesset of disreputable members of Labour "doves," singling out as an example Abraham Ofer, M.K., who is to head the Alignment election headquarters.

Pending the outcome of the Meir-Dayman talks, the Defence Minister and other ex-Rafi leaders are declining to participate in the Labour Party's preparations for the election campaign.

Police probe school violence

HAIFA. — Police are investigating complaints of theft, vandalism and cruel bullying at the Herzl elementary school in Rehov Zidkiyahu, on Mt. Carmel.

Police began their inquiry after mothers of several small boys complained that three youths living in the area, aged 15 and 16, maltreated their children, beating them over the head with sandals, choking them with shoestrings and disrupting their games.

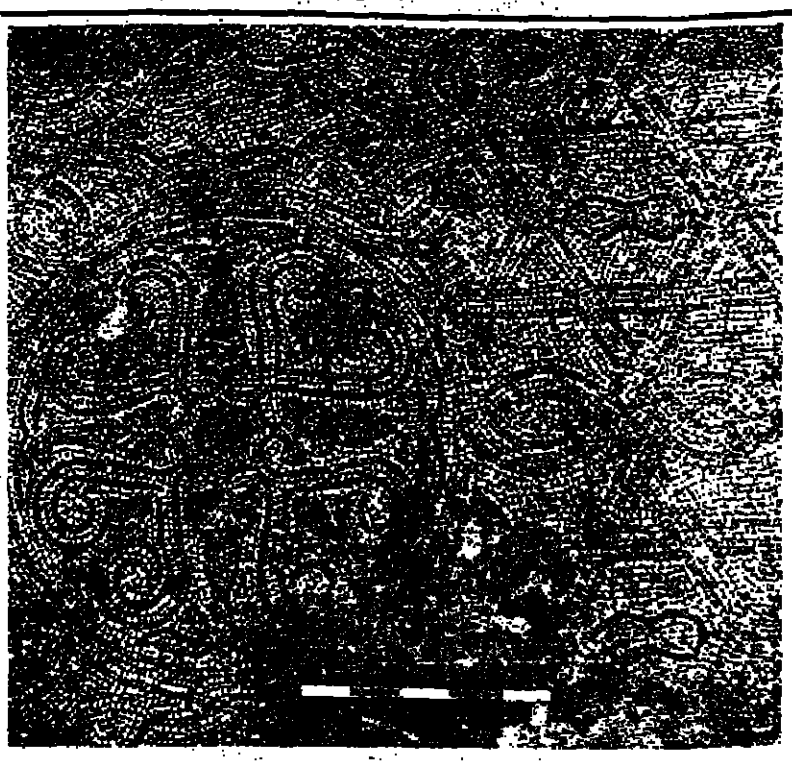

Rowdies are also said to have smashed windows at the school; and police are probing the theft recently of school equipment, including a tape recorder.

RAMLE MOSAIC — A colorful mosaic floor was discovered in the house of Sami Khouri, the first ever to be found in Ramle. The mosaic floor contains a verse from the Koran, written in black letters on a white background. The verse, which is from the seventh Sura, is set in the mosaic floor within an arch and carried on two pillars. This arch represents the mihrab, the prayer niche in the wall facing Mecca. The floor, which is probably from the eighth century C.E., is decorated with motifs typical of early Moslem art, such as flowers, fruit, and interlacing geometric patterns, including six-pointed stars. The discovery of the Arabic inscription is of particular importance, since it is the only one known in Moslem floor mosaics, according to Dr. Miriam Rosen-Ayalon, who deciphered the inscription. Physicians' strike enters 23rd day NO END IN SIGHT

By MACABEE DEAN
Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The strike of the country's 6,000 doctors enters its 23rd day this morning, with no end to the stalemate in sight. Yesterday, Dr. Ram Yishai, Chairman of the Israel Medical Association, said he was ready to resume negotiations with the employers if both sides came to the bargaining table with no previous conditions. However, Health Minister Victor Shemtov has repeatedly announced in the past few weeks that he will not budge beyond the 45.6 per cent maximum wage increase the Government has approved — at least not before April 1974, when all sectors will start new labour negotiations.

Mr. Shemtov issued another call to the doctors last night, to renew negotiations tomorrow night. Yesterday, the District Court cancelled the temporary injunction it had issued against the striking doctors at the request of Kupat Holim, which had claimed that the doctors' charging I.L.50 fees at the hospitals violated the Kupat Holim charter. Dr. Amnon Goldenberg, legal counsel for Kupat Holim, pleaded yesterday that only a few wait for Pinhas Sapir's return, probably on Tuesday, before taking any "drastic action."

The strike leaders decided last night to abandon their one-day-old measure of combining parallel departments in hospitals, because it appeared to harm only the patients.

INTENSIFICATION

The next step in the "intensification" of the strike will take place on Sunday when a new roster of hospitals on duty for admitting patients (other than emergency cases whose condition prohibits sending them to another hospital) will be initiated. Lists of the receiving hospitals are being published in the press, and patients will be admitted to the duty hospital without being asked if they are members of Kupat Holim or any other sick fund.

In Jerusalem yesterday, Histaadrot Secretary-General Yitzhak Ben-Aharon scored the doctors, saying they had "removed themselves from the workers' ranks, and are taking advantage of their monopolistic position."

In Haifa, Dr. Eliezer Nudelman, Secretary-General of the Soviet Immigrant Doctors Union, indignantly denied that members of the union had approached the Health Ministry expressing their desire to return to work, as they were finding themselves without means of subsistence.

The Ministry's director-general, Baruch Padah, on Wednesday said that he had received such a letter from an association of Soviet academic workers, which claimed to speak for 200 doctors.

Civil service strike Sunday

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Work in Government offices will probably grind to a screeching halt on Sunday as 38,000 civil servants stage their planned one-day warning strike to press for higher pay.

The strike came closer to reality when the leader of the Civil Servants Union, Haim Bernshteyn, turned down a request by Deputy Prime Minister Yigal Alon that the workers wait for Pinhas Sapir's return, probably on Tuesday, before taking any "drastic action."

The workers — all of them employed under the "uniform wage scale" — want the Civil Service Commission to open talks on negotiating the 1973/74 wage agreement, which both parties signed several months ago. They claim recent victories by professional unions — such as the engineers — have created a "serious imbalance" between their pay scales and those of government workers.

Another union representing workers in the "uniform pay scale" — the Clerical Workers Union, agreed to Mr. Alon's request. This means that offices of municipalities and local authorities will not be struck.

AN AMERICAN TOURIST, Eddy Sultan, 30, was mugged and robbed by three men on Wednesday evening as he was strolling along the beach near the Dan Hotel in Tel Aviv. The robbers took his wallet and emergency card, and a small amount of Israeli currency, he told police.

Yitzhak Gazi Navy man picked to run Ashdod Port

By YITZHAK OKED
Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — A 45-year-old Yitzhak Gazi, a Navy man, was unanimously picked yesterday by the Port Authority Council to be manager of Ashdod Port.

Mr. Gazi, whose appointment is still ratified by Transport Minister Shimon Peres, is to take over from outgoing manager Mordechai Berger.

The Council decided Mr. Berger would study the port's future abroad to study. Earlier in the meeting it cancelled its nomination of the former O.C. Navy, Avraham Botzer, to replace Mr. Berger.

Mr. Gazi was proposed for the job by Aharon Remez, Director of the Ports Authority.

The Haifa-born Gazi said he planned to go to Ashdod Sunday and start learning the job.

"I plan to take the job seriously," he said. "I plan to move my family from Haifa to Ashdod, as soon as possible so that I can give all my time to the port, turning it into a good and productive one."

He said he saw the work as a "full-fledged partnership" and that he received their full cooperation. He said that the workers would rate with whoever was appointed manager.

Mr. Gazi graduated from Technion's Bosmat vocational school and served in the Navy and its naval branch, Palyash, joined the Israel Navy when it was founded.

Mr. Gazi organized and commanded the Haifa Naval Base. He retired from active duty years ago and organized the Fine Training Department, and the Government and the Israel's Merchant Marine.

Gov't to retrain swimming T.A. police lessons after ree drown 'specialists'

BY ERNIE MEYER
Jerusalem Post Reporter

A result of the drowning of schoolchildren in a little over a week, the Education Ministry has decided to retrain swimming teachers. A committee will be composed of swimming supervisors, principals, safety experts and lifeguards.

The beginning of the swimming season in May, the Ministry issued a pamphlet to all schools detailing standards of supervision, including standards of supervision, count-off system, pool safety, health standards, first aid. But these, apparently, were not sufficient.

First of the three accidents occurred on the 10th of this month. Yossi Nir, 10, of Holon, drowned in a local pool where he and fifth-grade classmates were getting a lesson. Ten days later Avner, 14, of Ra'anana, drowned on a class outing to the Golan. Aided to surface after jumping the Meshulamim pool, trying to a girl who had fallen in. The was saved.

Tuesday, Yael Tiram, 11, of Hasharon, drowned at the Golan swimming pool in Kfar. He had been bused to the or the final lesson of a seven-week swimming course, with three groups of fifth-graders from school.

The Education Ministry decided into groups of 10 each, the care of a coach, the stars completed the lesson and the buses for the return. Yael's absence was noted until the pool manager used the school principal in him that the boy had been in the water and was dead.

Another boy had been in the water and was dead. The other eight boys group practised in the deep. It is not yet known how his at the end of the lesson have been overlooked.

A 1-year-old boy noticed Yael's the bottom of the deep end and after the fifth-graders the pool area. A bystander caught up the body applied respiration, but to no ry commissions have been in each of the three cases, ning courses of 12 to 15 usually start in grade five elementary school. Where indoor fe not available lessons are outdoor pools at the be- end of the school day-June and September-October.

A fourth gang consisted of seven Tel Aviv residents, who raided construction sites and stole cement bags, to be resold to contractors later.

In all, 21 persons are under detention, and more arrests are expected.

S. Africans at Maccabiah banned track & fielders to compete 'as individuals'

By JACK LEON
Jerusalem Post Sports Reporter

AVIV. — The South African Council plans to send members of the track and field team from the Ninth Maccabiah competition in Israel and Europe on individual basis.

South African Chairman Arthur Gold told the Jerusalem Post yesterday that the International Amateur Athletics Federation (IAAF) refused to sanction the participation of a South African track field team in the Maccabiah — of object to athletes from South Africa going abroad as individuals.

Goldman, together with South African Executive President Louis Geertruida, arrived in Israel this week to finalize arrangements for the record 117 contingent from the Republic here on Monday. This will be largest sports team of any ever to leave South Africa.

South African participation in the Maccabiah was also banned by the national Boxing, Weightlifting, Wrestling Federations, all of which have suspended South Africa as it practices racism in sports.

W stopped on French Hill school

Jerusalem Post Reporter

French Hill residents yesterday halted construction of a vocational school for girl dropouts after Municipality confirmed their protest that the project had no building permit.

A native of the residents, who the school saying it will be construction for wayward girls, City Hall claiming the building permit.

Mayor Kollek ordered a check; turned out that, indeed, mit had been issued, a Municipality spokesman said. Excavation for the school was ordered forthwith.

Mr. said in an official statement that work would not be until a permit was given, till he had an opportunity to discuss the development of French Hill with the neighborhood.

Mr. will meet the residents in two a spokesman said.

The protest came only two days after construction was begun for the WIZO project. The corner-stone was laid by a delegation by French Hill residents.

The demonstration again yesterday's building site.

BAN PROTESTED

Goldman protested the ban on grounds that, since the Maccabiah is a competition solely for athletes, charges of racism not apply. However, the only reason the Federation would be allowing South African athletes to compete in a three-hour session meet in Tel Aviv on the day of the opening ceremony on 9. "We decided against this, which it would have been a cheap Maccabiah colours," said man.

South African Maccabiah is particularly bitter at being excluded from games' track and field events, because these are the corner-stone of any meet of this type and use our athletes have won gold in each of the games since Second Maccabiah in 1935," Goldman continued. This time,

Peres to build railways as 'best means of transport'

Jerusalem Post Reporter

SAFAD. — The Transport Ministry is drawing up plans to cover the whole country with train tracks.

"The railways is the least polluting among the various means of transport, causes the smallest number of accidents and is the most economic in operation," Transport Minister Shimon Peres said Wednesday night. Crowds jam Lod, beat 'peak prices'

Jerusalem Post Aviation Reporter

LOD AIRPORT. — With only two days to go before "peak season" air ticket prices go into effect, the terminal building was crowded to near capacity yesterday morning by hundreds of travellers who had timed their departures to save between $20 and $40.

Airlines had scheduled extra departures to cope with the crowds. Most of the departing passengers were Israeli citizens.

There are more Israeli travellers this year than ever before. The tally by yesterday was 200,000 Israelis going abroad, as compared to 170,000 registered by the same date last year.

Farkas is jailed again

Jerusalem Post Reporter

SAFAD. — Nahman Farkas, an ex-convict who probably holds Israel's record for jailbreaks, was detained again on Wednesday, following a complaint by a local restaurateur.

Shimon Ekri, 61, owner of the restaurant near Kibbutz Farud on the Acre-Safad road, told police Farkas came in and asked for a broom and a pail. When Ekri refused, Farkas appeared, but came back later and threw a rock at him. He then reappeared again, and ignored the customers, threatened Ekri and shattered several glasses. Later he came in once more, the restaurant owner continued, stuck his head through a window and said: "The police are afraid of me — I'll find you and them both." This time, the police were there, and took him into custody.

Farkas was released on bond Monday, after being charged with assault, trespassing, neglect of a child and other assorted offences — all stemming from a dispute with his wife over how to raise their child, and an ensuing clash with her father. The father-in-law was among the various people who have, in the past, offered to take Farkas under their wing and "rehabilitate" him.

THE MISSILE AGE — Students of the Bosmat technical high school of Haifa yesterday launched a two-stage missile, labelled Bosmat-5, in the Golan Heights. Eliav blasts youth's 'cynicism'

By MOSHE KORN
Jerusalem Post Reporter

A warning against the young Israeli's cynicism and abandonment of values, stemming from post-Six Day War affluence is one highlight of a "Proposal for a platform for the Israel Labour Movement," made public today by Aris (Lyova) Eliav, M.K. (See fuller summary of the "Proposal" on page 12.)

The "Proposal" is essentially a summary of Mr. Eliav's controversial book, "Eretz Hatzvi," published a year ago, dealing with the whole range of Israel's domestic and external problems and offering the author's programme for the future.

Since the publication of the book, Mr. Eliav has toured some 160 towns, settlements and outposts from the Golan Heights to Eilat, meeting with groups of every sort to seek support for his views on Israel's relations with the Arab states, on the Palestinian, on relations with the world powers, and on Israeli domestic policy.

At the time, he said he was offering the book as his credo, on the basis of which he hoped to receive a ministerial appointment after this year's national elections.

Now, in a preamble to the "Proposal," he announces that he intends to canvass for support in getting his essentials adopted as the Labour Party's election platform.

IL65m. budget for Bar-Ilan U.

Jerusalem Post Reporter

RAMAT GAN. — The Board of trustees of Bar-Ilan University has approved a budget of IL65m. plus a development budget of IL14m. for 1975/76.

At its annual meeting, which ended yesterday, the Board called for government participation in the university budget to remain proportionate the same as last year.

Efforts will be made to raise at least $5m. abroad in 1975/76. The Board wants an increase in the activities of the faculty housing fund by finding new sources of finance.

The Board noted with satisfaction the formation of a team for preparing a master-plan for the university, and instructed the planners to allocate 20 dunams for developing the religious centre of the university, which will include the Institute for Advanced Torah Studies.

Philip Stollman was chosen vice-president of the Board, together with Rabbi Seymour M. Zambrowsky and H. Jerome Silverman. New members elected to the board are Daniel Levi, Solly Liebgott, Moshe Krone, Prof. A. Saltman and Prof. R. Toeff. Dr. Zerah Warhaftig, Minister for Religious Affairs, was re-elected chairman of the Executive Council, and Interior Minister Yosef Burg was re-elected chairman of the Board of Overseers.

T.A. LIFE GUARDS' STRIKE STILL ON

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Tel Aviv Life Guards are continuing the strike they began on Monday, and are expected to keep it going over the weekend. Yesterday the Tel Aviv Municipality appealed to the National Labour Court to force the workers to return to work, but the court postponed its hearing until Monday.

Dayan on Arabic TV programme Economic independence predicted for West Bank

Jerusalem Post Arab Affairs Reporter

Defence Minister Moshe Dayan last night said Israel would help the West Bank Arab population reach "economic independence" and absorb the bulk of the 50,000 local workers now employed in Israel.

Speaking on the Arabic TV programme — but in Hebrew with Arabic subtitles — Mr. Dayan said the West Bank was now qualified to face what he described as a second phase in the development of its economy. He said the first phase, covering the past six years, saw "a tremendous drive in technological development" which the West Bank

Deny Arab bishop named for Anglicans

A spokesman for St. George Cathedral in Jerusalem yesterday denied a London press report which claimed a Jerusalem Arab bishop had been named to replace Archbishop George Appleton as head of the Anglican Church in the Jerusalem diocese.

The claim was made by the "Sunday Telegraph," which said the Archbishop of Canterbury had named Bishop Nabil Qubain as successor to Archbishop Appleton, who it said would be retiring soon.

Saying the London report was "unfounded," the spokesman at the Jerusalem cathedral noted that changes of guard at the Anglican Church are not made by the Archbishop of Canterbury, but by the Church's five diocesan Archbishops and a consulting board.

Bishop Qubain, who frequently travels to Amman on church missions, was not available yesterday for comment. The "Sunday Telegraph" said Bishop Qubain's alleged appointment as chief of the Anglican Church here was likely to spark off repercussions in other Jerusalem churches which are all headed by non-Arab patriarchs and archbishops.

During the week of July 7 to July 13, visitors named after any one of the 12 Tribes of Israel will be admitted free.

This week, "Lion's Week," all persons named "Arye" (lion) are admitted free.

Ein Gedi hostel inaugurated

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Israel Youth Hostels Association (IYHA) inaugurated its 31st and most modern centre at Ein Gedi Wednesday at a ceremony which also launched Israel Youth Hostel Week, celebrating the organization's 25th anniversary.

The new 300-bed hostel offers a striking panorama of the Dead Sea and the Mountains of Moab. Next month it will replace Ein Gedi's present 20-year-old facilities for excursionists which were among the first in the country. Among the first guests in the new building will be a group of international volunteers who will help put finishing touches to the site, including landscaping.

Present at the inauguration were Tourism Minister Moshe Kol and Dr. Anron Grassl of Munich, president of the International Youth Hostel Federation.

The Minister expressed his "complete rejection" of the recommendations of some economists that Israel concentrate on attracting top-class tourists instead of dissipating its efforts on so-called "popular" tourism. No less than 25 per cent of all tourists to Israel last year were young people, he said, and while most of them had limited funds, the provision of adequate facilities commensurate with their means must be considered as an important investment in the future of tourism.

Dr. Grassl, a frequent visitor to Israel, praised the support given to the youth hostels here by the government and other official organizations. The result of this policy, he noted, was that on a per capita basis Israel was among the world's leading centres of youth tourism.

Water found in Nahal Arava

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — Sweet water was struck in the Nahal Arava area by Mekorot drillers, a company spokesman announced yesterday. The area suffers from a dearth of surface wells.

The water was struck at a relatively shallow depth of 122 metres. It was found to be of a low mineral content and well within the accepted safety limits of drinking and irrigation water.

A pipeline will link the well to nearby Eilat, which has been plagued by a lack of drinking water.

ARMY COUP BID FOILED IN CHILE

SANTIAGO. — The army said yesterday it had smashed a plot by members of the armed forces to overthrow Chilean President Salvador Allende.

Gen. Mario Sepulveda, commander of the Santiago province emergency zone, said the plot had been "totally aborted" with the arrest of several low-ranking military men. Sepulveda declined to say whether civilians were involved or to identify the branches of the armed forces that participated in the effort to "break the nation's institutional process."

He described the plot as a thwarted "barracks uprising."

Sepulveda said the arrests were made on Wednesday morning, a few hours before what the government described as the attempted assassination of the army's commander-in-chief, Gen. Carlos Prats.

Iraqi-Kurd fighting spreads to border areas

TEHRAN. — The third day of fighting between the Kurdish forces headed by Mullah Mustafa Barzani and the Iraqi army spread to mountainous areas near the Iranian border, newspaper reports said here yesterday.

The reports said that the Kurdish forces have launched an attack on Iraqi troops stationed at Halafasha. It was reported that the Iraqi soldiers have set fire to forests near the border in an effort to make Kurds flee their villages.

It was speculated that the Iraqi moves might be the beginning of a summer offensive against the Kurds.

In Baghdad, the newspaper "Al-Thawra" yesterday gave prominence to a press statement allegedly made by Barzani and quoting him as saying he would have objected to Iraq's sudden nationalisation of the Kirkuk oilfields on June 1 last year had he been consulted.

The semi-official paper said the Kurdish leader made the statement to the "Herald-Tribune" newspaper and claimed the interview was published on June 22.

It quoted him as saying that he was ready to "not in line with American policy in this region, seize the Kirkuk oilfields and hand them over to an American company."

According to "Al-Thawra," the Kurdish leader also told the "Herald-Tribune" that his forces were receiving military and political aid from Iran and that he approved of any American aid sent through Iran or Israel.

Amin: U.S. Blacks no longer needed

KAMPALA (UPI). — President Idi Amin yesterday halted plans to bring 50 Black Americans into Uganda to replace departed British and British experts, Radio Uganda said.

The radio said Amin had cabled Uganda's U.N. representative, Grace Ibingira, asking him to stop a recruitment campaign mounted by Roy Innes, leader of the Congress for Racial Equality (CORE). The radio said Amin thanked Innes for his efforts and promised to inform him when the recruitment campaign could restart.

Amin said many Ugandans abroad were now responding favourably to his government's call to return home.

HOSPITALS. — Sweden has more hospital beds available for its people than any other country although Australia and Japan are close behind, the World Health Organization reports. Sweden has one bed per 70 population; Australia and Japan one per 80.

Poll for Assembly in Ulster

BELFAST (UPI). — British troops stood guard at polling booths yesterday watching over voters polling their choice in an election widely held to be the province's last chance of peace.

"It's up to the people," said Roman Catholic Social Democratic and Labour Party (SDLP) leader Gerry Gitt. "If they elect men of goodwill and moderation then perhaps the Assembly can work. This is our last chance."

The elections to the 78-man new Northern Ireland Assembly introduced proportional representation in an attempt to give the minority Catholic community a share in Northern Ireland's political power. There was little violence to mar the poll beginning. Explosive experts defused a letter bomb sent from Londonderry to the Belfast headquarters of the Royal British Legion and a bomb caused slight damage to a bar in Toomebridge, county Londonderry. There were no casualties.

The main political parties of both religious communities have agreed that the new legislature — centred on the British Government's overall plan to end the violence — should be given an opportunity to work, but the hardliners on either side are pledged to destroy it. In the last three days before the election seven persons were killed as extremists from both communities pressed on with their bombing and shooting.

U.S. plan to back rebel Cambodian units

PHNOM PENH (UPI). — American Phantom and Corsair jets joined Cambodian warplanes in fighting against rebel troops positioned against the military command reported to have been flying missions to the country for five months to counter a Communist offensive, the command said.

The American air strikes in Cambodia came hours after President Nixon vetoed a bill in Washington that would have halted all U.S. activity in Cambodia. U.S. warplanes have been flying missions to the country for five months to counter a Communist offensive, the command said.

U.S. pilots said government positions on the perimeter of the command were hit by Communist mortar and rocket attacks. The military command had no casualty figures.

The command said there had been fighting 29 km. northeast of the capital on Wednesday, where government troops were backed up.

U.S. P-o-W merged with collaborator kills himself

DENVER, Colorado (UPI). — A Marine sergeant Larry Kavanaugh, one of eight former U.S. prisoners of war charged recently with collaborating with the enemy while in North Vietnamese prison camps, committed suicide on Wednesday by shooting himself in the head, police said.

Kavanaugh, 33, wounded and captured in a Vietnam ambush, was a prisoner from April, 1968, to his release last March.

His death is the second of two by a returned American prisoner of war. On June 3, air force captain Ward Brudno, 33, killed himself by taking an overdose of barbiturates. Brudno was one of the last held prisoners of the Communists.

On October 12, 1965, when he was a F-4 Phantom jet-fighter was shot down over North Vietnam and released on February 1.

Greek ship was struck mine in Tripoli harbor was off course

TRIPOLI (UPI). — The sinking of a Greek freighter Vasilios, which struck a mine off the harbor on Saturday had a cause, a port authority spokesman said.

Because of the fault, the ship went off course and entered a mined area east of the harbor, a port authority spokesman said.

Athens reports on Wednesday the freighter suffered damage to its engine room when it hit a mine. The ship was carrying 12,000 tons of goods. Yesterday's statement said port authority had issued instructions to all shipping about the mine.

British ties with Libya 'not so happy'

LONDON (UPI). — Lord Balfour, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, said yesterday that Britain's relations with Libya were "not so happy."

He told Parliament that Britain had tried hard to wipe out the clean on disagreements with Libya but so far had not succeeded.

"Our task is not made easier by the support expressed by the British Republic for the Irish Republican Army," Lord Balfour said.

Amendment bars Phantom transfer to third country

WASHINGTON (INA). — A proviso was added to the Phantom transfer bill, which would allow the Phantom jets to be sold to any third country, but only if the transfer is authorized by a vote of the Senate.

The provision, drafted by Senator Frank Lautenberg (D-N.J.), was added to the bill on Wednesday.

The Phantom jets, which are being sold to Saudi Arabia, are being transferred to the Saudi Air Force under a lease-purchase agreement.

The bill, which was introduced by Senator John Stennis (D-Miss.), would allow the Phantom jets to be sold to any third country, but only if the transfer is authorized by a vote of the Senate.

The bill also contains a provision that would allow the Phantom jets to be sold to any third country, but only if the transfer is authorized by a vote of the Senate.

East-West talks on troop cut Oct. 30

GENEVA (Reuters). — NATO and Soviet bloc nations settled guidelines for negotiations on troop reductions in Central Europe at a meeting in Vienna on October 30.

The guidelines, which were agreed upon by NATO and the Soviet bloc, call for a 20% reduction in troops in Central Europe by October 30, 1975.

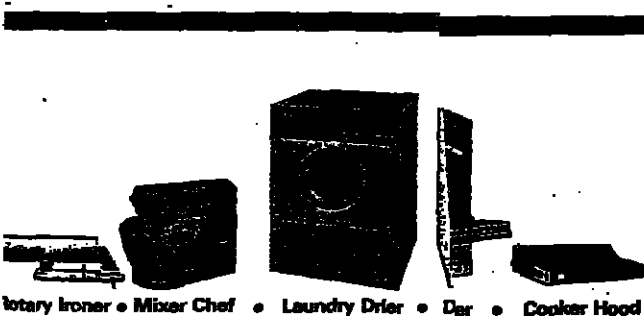

The guidelines also call for a 20% reduction in troops in Central Europe by October 30, 1975.

After nuclear test China wants to break 'super-power monopoly'

HONGKONG (UPI). — China said yesterday that it had conducted a hydrogen bomb test on Wednesday in order to break the "nuclear monopoly" of the super-powers. The New China News Agency said that the test was carried out successfully in western China.

The conducting of necessary and limited nuclear tests by China is entirely for the purpose of defence and for breaking the nuclear monopoly by the super-powers, with the ultimate aim of abolishing nuclear weapons," NCNA said.

In Tokyo, the Japanese Government yesterday denounced China's latest H-bomb test as "an extremely regrettable act" and called on the Peking government to give up nuclear testing. The protest was conveyed to the Chinese Government via Minister Yuchi Hayashi at the Japanese Embassy in Peking.

In London, defence sources said yesterday that China has made considerable strides lately toward perfecting its nuclear weapons. The latest Chinese nuclear explosion was said to have shown "growing sophistication" in triggering the explosion.

The International Institute for Strategic Studies said China has its own resources of natural uranium and the plant for its enrichment to weapons grade. It may have accumulated sufficient fissile material for about 150 fusion and fission weapons.

It also said that a modest force of medium range and intermediate range rockets with ranges sufficient to reach Moscow and most parts of Asia may be deployed and under the control of the Chinese army's missile arm. Defence reports suggested that the Chinese are currently rushing the development of inter-continental ballistic missiles (ICBM) with ranges of 3,500-5,000 miles.

So far unconfirmed reports further suggested that China is developing a super missile — a three-stage ICBM — larger than the Soviet giant SS-9 rockets.

In the Pacific Ocean, the crew of the New Zealand Navy frigate Obango went into sealed quarters below decks for two hours yesterday in a nuclear fallout exercise. The frigate headed for the French nuclear test area at Mururoa atoll, and the exercise was meant to give an early view of how they will operate if the French trigger a nuclear blast while the Obango is in the danger area.

2 JDL members cleared of U.S. fire-bombing

NEW YORK (Reuters). — Two members of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) have been cleared of charges of fire-bombing the office of impresario Sol Hurok after two of their colleagues refused to testify against them.

U.S. district court judge Arnold Bauman ordered the two who refused to be held on criminal contempt charges, saying "the law will make them pay."

The two, Richard Hues, 17, and Jeffrey Smilow, 18, were held in $50,000 bail each, pending a formal hearing scheduled for July 3.

A secretary at Hurok's office was killed in the explosion on July 26, 1972. The JDL was protesting against the bookings by Hurok of Soviet artists for performances in the U.S.

Although the bombing charges against the defendants Stuart Cohen, 18, and Sheldon Davis, 20, were dropped, the government still maintains two charges against them of possession of incendiary devices.

175 drums of poison afloat in N. Atlantic

BILBAO, Spain (Reuters). — Ships in the North Atlantic have been asked to watch out for 175 bright yellow drums of poison and, if possible, to sink them with gunfire, a Spanish navy spokesman said here yesterday.

He said the drums, containing highly toxic lead tetraethyl, are likely to be carried in the gulf stream towards the north European coast.

The poison was swept overboard from two freighters, one batch last December and another last month.

REMAINS. — A Japanese Government mission has brought home from Peking the remains of 399 Japanese who died in China during and after World War II.

Moroccan bomb meant for Jewish offices

KENitra, Morocco (Reuters). — Amid a prosecution display of sub-machineguns, pistols and explosives, a 28-year-old cashier yesterday admitted planting two powerful bombs in the U.S. diplomatic mission in Casablanca last March.

The cashier, Mohamed Moutadi, is one of 157 Moroccans charged with involvement in an armed subversive movement against King Hassan's regime.

Moutadi, a member of the Moroccan Socialist opposition party, told the court that he placed one bomb in the U.S. Information Agency's cultural centre and the second under an American car parked in front of the U.S. consulate general.

He said the second bomb was originally intended for the Jewish community's offices, but he changed his plan because the area around the building was "too busy." Neither of the bombs exploded.

France bans main leftist, rightist groups

PARIS (Reuters). — The government yesterday banned France's main left-wing and right-wing extremist movements in a move to halt street violence here.

The decision to dissolve the Trotskyite Communist League and the neo-fascist Ordre Nouveau (new order) group was taken at a Cabinet meeting yesterday chaired by President Pompidou.

The government acted after violent street clashes last Thursday between police and extreme leftist demonstrators who tried to prevent an Ordre Nouveau meeting being held. More than 70 police were injured.

Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin promised further legal action against the demonstrators and declared: "What the Communist League did to the police is unforgivable."

16 miners die in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters). — Sixteen mine workers were killed and two injured when a lift bringing them out of a shaft at a gold mine overran its cables yesterday, a mine spokesman said here.

The accident, in which 15 Africans and one white died, occurred as a lift carrying 18 men was ascending the Orange shaft at the Buffelfontein gold mine about 144 kms. southwest of here.

A general mining spokesman said that, due to what is called an "overwind," the cage carrying the men failed to halt and ran into crash beams at the top of the shaft, where it was held by safety catches. Nobody in the downgoing cage dropping the new shaft into the mine was injured, he said.

The two survivors from the upgoing cage, both Africans, were taken to hospital.

YEVTUSHENKO IN HONGKONG

HONGKONG (UPI). — Soviet poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko, the idol of the post-Stalinist generation, has spent the past week in Hongkong, acquaintances said yesterday.

The 40-year-old poet was travelling through the Far East searching for "local colour" for a series of new poems on Asia, they added.

Political observers said Yevtushenko's entry into the British crown colony shows a rare divergence from the strict immigration policies here. The Soviet Union has no diplomatic representation in Hongkong. Russian citizens including seamen have consistently been denied even short term entry visas into the colony, they said.

WHAT HAVE EINSTEIN, BEN GURION, MOSES AND MODIGLIANI IN COMMON WITH YOU

The answer, if you're Jewish, is a fierce sense of national pride of achievement. And here now, for the first time, is a prestigious 12 000 000 word, 16 volume work that tells the story of what it means to be Jewish.

tion, have contributed so much to world history, culture, science and the arts. More than 60 Nobel Prizewinners have been Jewish or of Jewish descent. 236 Olympic medals have been won by Jewish athletes in the Olympic Games. For those with a claim to this proud heritage, the Encyclopaedia Judaica provides a unique opportunity for learning, and expanding one's sense of Jewishness.

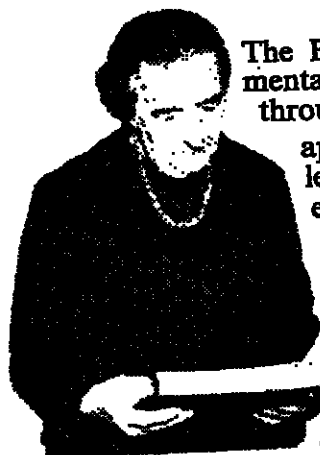

A monumental work of scholarship.

Encyclopaedia Judaica is complete and authoritative in the arts, sciences, history, religion, law, philosophy, mysticism, Israel, folklore, contemporary Jewry and much more.

Over 2 500 editors, contributors and reviewers from all over the world have combined their talents to produce over 12 000 000 words of information contained in sixteen large, beautifully bound volumes.

The Encyclopaedia Judaica is truly a work of scholarship to any home.

The Encyclopaedia Judaica is a monumental work of scholarship, acclaimed throughout the entire world.

Its appearance has been hailed by Jewish leaders as one of the most significant events in Jewish culture this century.

It adds a new dimension to your home, your thinking, your children's education.

The only surviving ancient civilisation.

Babylonia, Sumeria, Assyria - all the mighty empires of the past have disappeared forever.

The Jews are the only ancient civilization to have survived intact - with a language, a religion and an ethic essentially unchanged for thousands of years.

Yet only too often, throughout history, the Jewish nation has been threatened with total extinction. Factually, without exaggeration or apology, Encyclopaedia Judaica presents the remarkable story of Jewish survival over the ages.

In the Encyclopaedia Judaica you'll find accounts of the many catastrophes which have befallen the Jewish people, with full particulars of the unspeakable horrors inflicted during the period of Nazi tyranny, and the Holocaust.

Yet essentially the Judaica is a catalogue of tenacity, of an incredible vitality, of enduring victory against seemingly overwhelming odds.

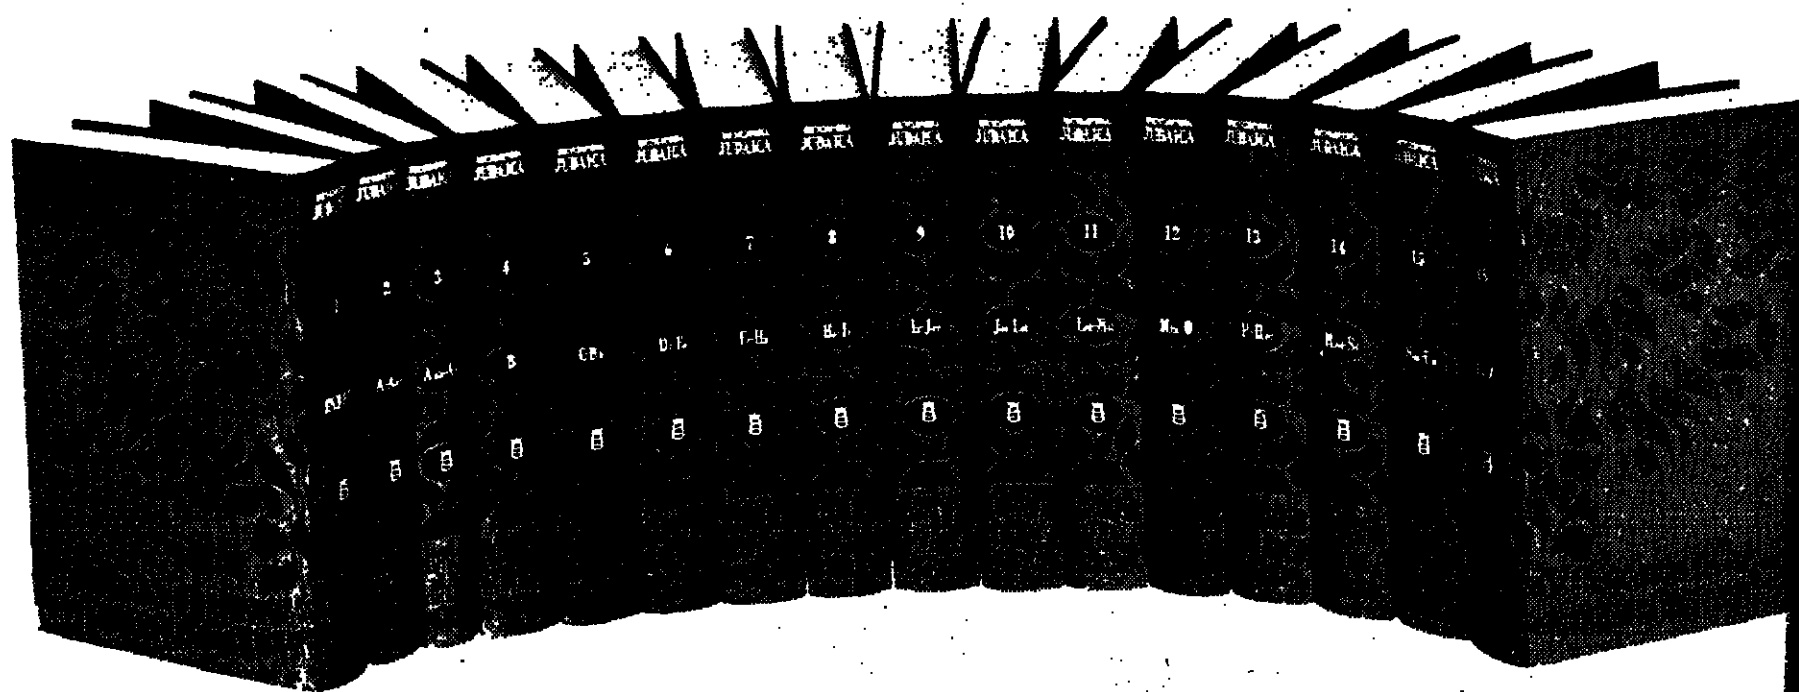

Acclaimed by leading world figures.

Golda Meir, Israel's Prime Minister, called the Judaica "a great educational instrument." The Encyclopaedia Judaica will, I am sure, be an integral part of the library of all those who wish to acquire wisdom and knowledge. Moshe Dayan says, "I believe that the Encyclopaedia can play a very important part in the encouragement of Jewish consciousness amongst the Jewish people."

And David Ben-Gurion has stated, "I am convinced that it is the duty of every Jewish parent to have a copy of the Encyclopaedia for the benefit of generations to come."

A key to Jewish identity.

What emerges from Encyclopaedia Judaica is a priceless sense of Jewish identity. There is no better way of discovering for oneself in full what it means to be a Jew. The activities and accomplishments of Jews in every age and in every part of the world are chronicled here. It staggers the imagination to realise that a small people fighting an unending battle against prejudice, bigotry and, often, persecution.
